Description

A substantial ring-fenced block of permanent grassland and upland grazing situated near the hamlet of Nether Heselden, Littondale in the Yorkshire Dales National Park.

The land is classified as Grade 4 /5 with a mixture of humose loam and peaty soils suitable for the grazing of sheep and native cattle breeds, with mowing achievable on the lowland parcels. The land extends in total about 369.44 acres, of which 16.59 acres is meadow capable of mowing, 45.33 acres is unimproved grassland and 308.15 acres of hill grazing. The land has excellent access directly onto Armistead Barns Road and several natural drinking water sources for livestock. It is generally south facing, lying between 285m and 550m above sea level and is enclosed by drystone walls.

The land offers significant scope for natural capital and biodiversity net gain (BNG) opportunities through the creation of deciduous woodland plantations and re-wilding activities (subject to obtaining the necessary consents). It also provides an excellent opportunity to acquire a substantial block of hill grazing with the ability to gather livestock down to the lowland pastures.

Any future delinked BPS payments are to be retained by the Seller.

Countryside Stewardship Schemes / SFI

We are not aware of any Countryside Stewardship Scheme (CSS) or Sustainable Farming Incentive (SFI) agreements in operation over the land.
